I am going to give you a worksheet. When you get your worksheet, please write your name at the top and put your pencil down.

(Hand out the Maze student worksheets. Make sure students have written their names down before proceeding.)

You are going to read a passage with some words missing from it. For each missing word you will see a box with three words in it. Your job is to circle the word you think makes the most sense in the context of the passage. Let’s look at the Practice Passage together. Listen as I read.

Tom goes to a school far from his house. Every morning, he takes a school (pause) art, bus, work (pause) to go to school.

Let’s stop there. Let’s circle the word “bus” because I think “bus” makes the most sense here. Listen to how that sentence sounds now.

Every morning, he takes a school bus to go to school.

Now it’s your turn. Read the next sentence silently to yourself. When you come to a box, read all the words in the box and circle the word that makes the most sense to you. When you are done, put your pencil down.

(Allow up to 30 seconds for students to complete the example and put their pencils down.)

If necessary, after 30 seconds say Put your pencil down. As soon as all students have their pencils down, say Good job.

Now listen. In the (pause) afternoon, library, morning (pause), he also takes a bus home. You should have circled “afternoon” because “afternoon” makes the most sense. Listen. In the afternoon, he also takes a bus home.

Okay, when I say “Begin,” turn the page and start reading the passage silently. Start on the page with the title. When you come to a box, read all the words in the box and circle the word that makes the most sense in the passage. You will stop when you come to a stop sign or I say Stop. Ready? Begin. Start the timer.

At the end of 3 minutes, stop the timer and say Stop. Put your pencils down.

Reminders

Start timer Start the timer after you say Begin.

Prompts If a student starts reading the passage out loud, say Please read the passage silently. (Repeat as often as needed.)

If a student skips an entire page, say, Please be sure not to skip pages.

If a student stops working, say Please keep going until I tell you to stop. Just do your best work. (Repeat as often as needed.)

Discontinue There is no discontinue rule. Every student should be encouraged to try their best until three minutes have passed.

Brush Hogging

My name is Sarah, and I live on Riggerts Farm Road in Stovepipe, Vermont. My favorite after-school activity is taking care of my 1 chickens, Molly, Dolly, and Wally. My second favorite activity is 2 brush hogging our field. 3
A brush hog is like a tractor crossed with a 4 lawn mower. It has windows and a seat. You've 5 got to climb up to sit on it. It makes a 7 lot of noise and it shakes and rattles and belches 8 smoke. It's fun to ride in, and even more fun to drive. 10 People with land use a brush hog to clear the vegetation 12 from their fields. If you don't brush hog every week, the weeds 13 and saplings grow fast and tall. Before you know it, you'll 15 have an entire forest growing in your back yard. 16

After you're done brush hogging the field looks clean. 18

You can now plow it and plant good things to grow and eat. 19

You have the tingling satisfied feeling of a job well done. 21

Sometimes brush hogging makes you very hungry. You just want 22 to go inside and make yourself a sandwich and drink some 24 cold water.

The rules of our house are, when you turn ten, you can 26 start brush hogging with Mom or Dad. You have to sit 28 on their laps, and you have to buckle in with a harness. You 29 can put your hands on the steering wheel, but you can't touch 31 anything else. The key to the brush hog is 32 hidden in a secret place in the house. 34

You can see some interesting parts of nature while 35 you are brush hogging. One day last week, I was brush hogging 37 with Dad when a fast, brown animal ran in front of 38 us, across our field and into the woods. It was so 40 quick I barely had time to see it. We decided to stop 41 and get out of the brush hog to follow it. Dad 43 showed me how to track its prints. The animal ran down the 45 muddy hiking trail all the way to the dock by the lake. 46 Its tracks went to the edge and disappeared. A ripple on the 48 water showed where it had made a splash. 49 “Congratulations,” said Dad, pointing to something 50 swimming in the distance. “You just tracked your first baby 51 moose!”

The Secret Desert

My family lives in a two-story house on a dead-end street with a little forest where it ends. The trees there are all evergreen trees. They grow so close together you've got to turn sideways to get through. It is always cool and dark in the forest.

One day, I left my bike lying on its side and walked into the evergreens. My feet made no sound on the thick carpet of brown pine needles. It was so still, I could hear my own breath and even my heart beating.

Finally, I came out of the cool and dark forest into the hot sun. I saw then that I was standing on the edge of a big hollow. As far as I could see there was nothing but sand. It was a desert! 16

I took off my sweatshirt and tied it around my head , 18 like a turban, to keep off the blazing sun. I walked out into 19 the sand. As I walked, I looked around for camels and palm 21 trees, but I only saw tire tracks. 22

The tracks were big. It looked like they'd been 23 made by trucks. Then there were some tracks that were so deep 25 they looked like they'd been made by a bulldozer. But what 27 were trucks and a bulldozer doing in a desert? 28

I walked for what seemed like a long time, but there 30 seemed to be no end to this desert. I was very hot and 31 thirsty . I decided to turn around and go back to the 33 cool evergreen forest. When I reached the shade of the 34 pine trees, I was a little dizzy. I sat down for a few minutes in the coolness. Then I walked all the way through the forest, got on my bike, and rode slowly home. That night at supper I asked my dad about the desert. I told him about the tire and bulldozer tracks I'd seen out in the middle. He said that this place was called a "Sand-Pit." Trucks used to go there to dig out and haul away tons of sand. Builders used the sand to make cement to build houses on. He also said that our house foundation had probably used cement made with sand from the Sand-Pit. "Oh?" I murmured. But I wasn't really paying attention. My dad always had interesting things to say about just about everything. I simply felt disappointed that not only was my secret desert not a secret, it wasn't even a real desert.

On the Trail

The last time I visited my cousins out West, we went on a trail ride. A trail ride is when you ride horses on a trail. 1 I'd been on pony rides before, so I wasn't worried about 3 riding a horse.

We got up at dawn and had a big breakfast 5 before going out to ride. When we got to the barn, the horses 6 were already saddled and waiting. They stamped their 8 hooves and neighed at us as we walked over to them. I could 9 feel my heart beating. It was exciting to be 11 setting out on such a big adventure. I still didn't feel afraid, 12 but my mouth got a little dry from the excitement. 14
The horses we were going to ride had been chosen for us 16

. One of my cousins got a pretty gray horse named 17
Dove, and the other cousin got a shiny dark brown horse called 19 Bill. Mine was called Freckles, because she had rusty brown spots all 20 over her white coat. Freckles had a tired look that reminded 22 me of my grandma on a hot day. Our trail guide called 24 Freckles a veteran, which I figured meant she was old. I didn't 25 know why they'd chosen this horse for me to ride, but I 27 didn't mind. We were all in a good mood starting out 29 on the trail. The sunlight was hot, but the air was cool 30 and tasted sweet. 31
Riding Freckles felt like being on a boat and a slow-motion 32 see-saw at the same time. Very slow-motion! All the horses 34 walked in a line along the trail. Freckles and I came last . 36

Slowly we got further and further behind the others. The guide turned around and called to Freckles. I tried to encourage her by flapping my legs against her sides, but she would not be rushed. She took her time putting one hoof in front of the other until we reached a turn in the trail. Then, she suddenly lifted her head and started to trot. The guide shouted at her, but Freckles didn't stop. She ran past all the other horses. I was bouncing up and down in the saddle. I was afraid I would fall off! All I could think of to do was to let go of the reins and hold tightly onto the saddle with both hands! My cousins couldn't help laughing at how funny I looked. Freckles ran all the way back to the barn and stopped next to her stall. I guess she wasn't so worn-out after all!
